

The Historic Landmarks Preservation Center is deeply appreciative of the cooperation and support of many institutions and individuals in this collaborative effort. This exhibition would not have been possible without their assistance, or the work of the gifted photographers, whose names are listed here. This list represents an array of photographers, from students to the well known, whose works have captured the history and the skyline of New York City.

We would particularly like to thank Christine Osinski, coordinator of photographers; Rocco Piscatello, designer of the exhibition; City Frames, Michaela Bernhauer, Exhibition Assistant; and special thanks for the ongoing support of an anonymous benefactor who underwrote all of the costs of research and preparation of the exhibition.
