In observance of World AIDS Day

AIDS Workshop with High School Students

by Elida Mihajlovska

President of the European Medical Student Association of Macedonia

December 10, 2007

In observance of the World Aids Day, the American Corner organized a very interactive and lively workshop attended by 15 high school students from the American high school NOVA.

The workshop started with a very interesting warm-up activity followed by an elaborative list of words associated to AIDS which the students wrote on a flipchart. Everyone present filled out a revealing survey about themselves after which Elida explained her PowerPoint presentation related to the answers of the survey and many were surprised by the things they did not know about AIDS and STD. The students enjoyed the second warm-up activity which included dancing – they did not mind performing at all. Everyone was very inquisitive and collaborative, had lots of fun and received a Certificate in the end.
